Article 8

Authorship in scientific papers is scored so that first author is given a full number of foreseen points for bibliographical unit, while other authors, conditioned that number of authors is not higher than 5, divided by number equivalent with ordinal position of the author.

If first author is not at the same time the leading author of a paper, the evidence on leading authorship is needed (written statement of the first and other authors). In this case, leading author gets full number of points for bibliographic unit (as it is on the first position) and points to the rest of authors are given in accordance with the changed position.

For publications with number of authors higher than 5, authorship is scored in a way so that total number of points for publications is divided by total number of authors (for all authors including the first one).

Article 9

Publications in scientific journals with disputable reputation and inadequate review (e.g. journals from predatory lists), as well as frequent publication in the same journal that is disproportionate to the number of publications of candidates in other journals (i.e. in cases where the impartiality of the journal editorial team is suspected), shall be further analyzed in order to be excluded from consideration when evaluating the candidate's contribution by the expert body or body of the Senate competent for scientific issues. In these cases, the author shall submit additional documentation to the expert body or body of the Senate competent for scientific issues: confirmation of sending the paper, decision of the editor together with the comments of reviewers and the like.

Article 10

A person who has affirmed oneself in the profession, i.e. the field for which is being elected, shall be promoted to a high school lecturer title.

It is considered that a candidate for a high school lecturer meets the condition referred to in paragraph 1 of this Article if he / she achieves a cumulative minimum of 5 points in evaluation of published papers.

Article 11

Into title of a higher school professor shall be promoted a person who:

- has professional papers proving affirmation of the candidate in the field for which is being elected,
- has an appropriate bibliography that includes papers and achievements that the profession recognizes as an appropriate way of presentation in the field for which it is chosen, and
- has a positive assessment of pedagogical work for the previous election period.

The candidate for a professor of a higher vocational school should achieve a cumulative minimum of 10 points based on published papers, of which at least 5 points after defense of the doctoral dissertation.

Equivalents for Evaluation of Bibliography

Article 12

Exceptionally, when evaluating bibliographic references for candidates being promoted to academic titles who do not meet the requirements concerning criteria for papers from categories Q1, Q2, Q3 and Q4 (listed in Article 7), it is possible to apply one of the following equivalences:

1. M1: Author's scientific monograph published by a renowned international publisher of scientific literature can be equivalent to one paper in a renowned journal (Q1 category);
2. M2: A chapter in a monograph published by a renowned international publisher of scientific literature can be equivalent to a single paper in a renowned journal (Q3 category);
3. R1: Editorial board in a Q1 journal may be equivalent to working in a Q1 journal, and editorial in a Q2 journal may be equivalent to working in a Q2 journal;
4. I1: International patent (EU patents, US patents) can be equivalent to one paper in a journal from Q3 category;
5. A paper published in a journal from a list determined by the Ministry of Education may be equivalent to one paper in a Q4 category journal.

Article 13

When applying the equivalence referred to in Article 12 of this Act, authorship of scientific papers shall be scored in accordance with Article 8 of this Act.

The candidate may use for equivalence only one of the categories listed in Article 12 of this Act and only one contribution from that category may be equivalent to paper in related journal.

III EVALUATION OF PEDAGOGICAL COMPETENCE

Article 14

When evaluating pedagogical competences of a candidate, the selection criteria are:

- Scope and content of knowledge about the field in which the candidate performs pedagogical work;
- Ability for modern organization of educational work and success in conducting lectures, exercises, seminars, consultations and exams;
- Professional, pedagogical and methodological value of scientific papers, textbooks and manuals;
- Mentoring in preparation of graduate, specialist, master's and doctoral theses;
- Evaluation of overall pedagogical work.

Article 15

Minimum number of points for pedagogical activity of candidates who are promoted to titles of associate and full professor:

- Minimum 6 points in total in pedagogical skills for promotion to title of associate professor (in classification bibliography a complete pedagogical activity of the candidate is stated),
- Minimum 10 points in total in pedagogical skills for promotion to title of full professor (a complete bibliographic activity of the candidate is stated in the classification bibliography).
